

valfor Deals and Cases

POLYGENA acquires Kubo Tech

POLYGENA AG, a sponsor and partner for SME companies in the industrial and service sectors (www.polygena.ch), acquired Kubo Tech AG, a manufacturer and distributor of high-performance sealing solutions and moulded rubber parts for a diverse range of demanding OEM market segments such as medical, watchmaking, food processing, machinery, energy, chemical, and general industry, from Diploma PLC (LON:DPLM), a global value-added distribution group active in controls, seals, and life sciences.

The press release can be found under: https://www.polygena.ch/s/Kommunikation_KuboTech_2024-11-13.pdf

valfor advised POLYGENA AG as lead counsel in this transaction with a team consisting of Stefan Scherrer, Samuel Streuli, Matthias Suter, Marco Ritter (all M&A), Leo Rusterholz (Data and Technology), Marc Grüninger, Stipe Jozic, Sophie Haldimann (all Financing) and Andreas Suter (Real Estate).

About valfor:

valfor is the result of the merger of the leading Swiss business law firms BianchiSchwald, GHR Rechtsanwälte and PYTHON on July 1, 2024. The merger created one of the most proficient national full-service business law firms, with more than 80 lawyers in six offices in Switzerland and an office in Brussels. In an increasingly complex economic and legal environment, valfor serves as a one-stop shop for clients with diverse legal needs. With a strong interdisciplinary approach and an international outlook in all areas of business law, we provide our clients with comprehensive advice tailored to their individual concerns from a single source. Our strength comes from our extensive knowledge, strong technical skills, professional experience, use of cutting-edge technology and unwavering commitment to excellence. valfor stands for our ongoing commitment and our shared endeavor to provide our clients with best-in-class legal services and real added value – value beyond legal advice.

<https://www.valfor.ch/>

December 2024