

valfor Deals and Cases

valfor advised Stadler Rail in connection with a Frame Agreement for the supply of 129 Bo'Bo' multisystem locomotives to SBB Cargo Stadler Rail (SIX: SRAIL), one of the world's ten largest rail vehicle manufacturers based in Switzerland, with a workforce of around 14,500 in various production and engineering locations, signed a Frame Agreement with Swiss freight operator SBB Cargo to supply 129 Bo'Bo' electric multisystem (25 kVAC/ 15 kVAC / 3 kV DC) locomotives for continental Europe. The new Bo'Bo' locomotives meet the technical specification for interoperability (TSI) and are equipped with various country packages. SBB Cargo will replace its in-age-coming locomotives Re420. The agreement provides for an initial delivery of 36 units and includes an option for 93 additional locomotives.

valfor advised Stadler Rail in this tender and transaction with a team consisting of Marc Metzger (Partner) and Stipe Jozic (Managing Associate).

About valfor:

valfor is the result of the merger of the leading Swiss business law firms BianchiSchwald, GHR Rechtsanwälte and PYTHON on July 1, 2024. The merger created one of the most proficient national full-service business law firms, with more than 70 lawyers in six offices in Switzerland and an office in Brussels. In an increasingly complex economic and legal environment, valfor serves as a one-stop shop for clients with diverse legal needs. With a strong interdisciplinary approach and an international outlook in all areas of business law, we provide our clients with comprehensive advice tailored to their individual concerns from a single source. Our strength comes from our extensive knowledge, strong technical skills, professional experience, use of cutting-edge technology and unwavering commitment to excellence. valfor stands for our ongoing commitment and our shared endeavor to provide our clients with best-in-class legal services and real added value – value beyond legal advice.

<https://www.valfor.ch/>

October 2024